

Widflowers of Southwest Colorado

Tufted evening primrose

Lesser Stitchwort

Northern bedstraw

white hellebore

Thimbleberry

ox-eye daisy

Mouse-ear chickweed

Sickletop lousewort

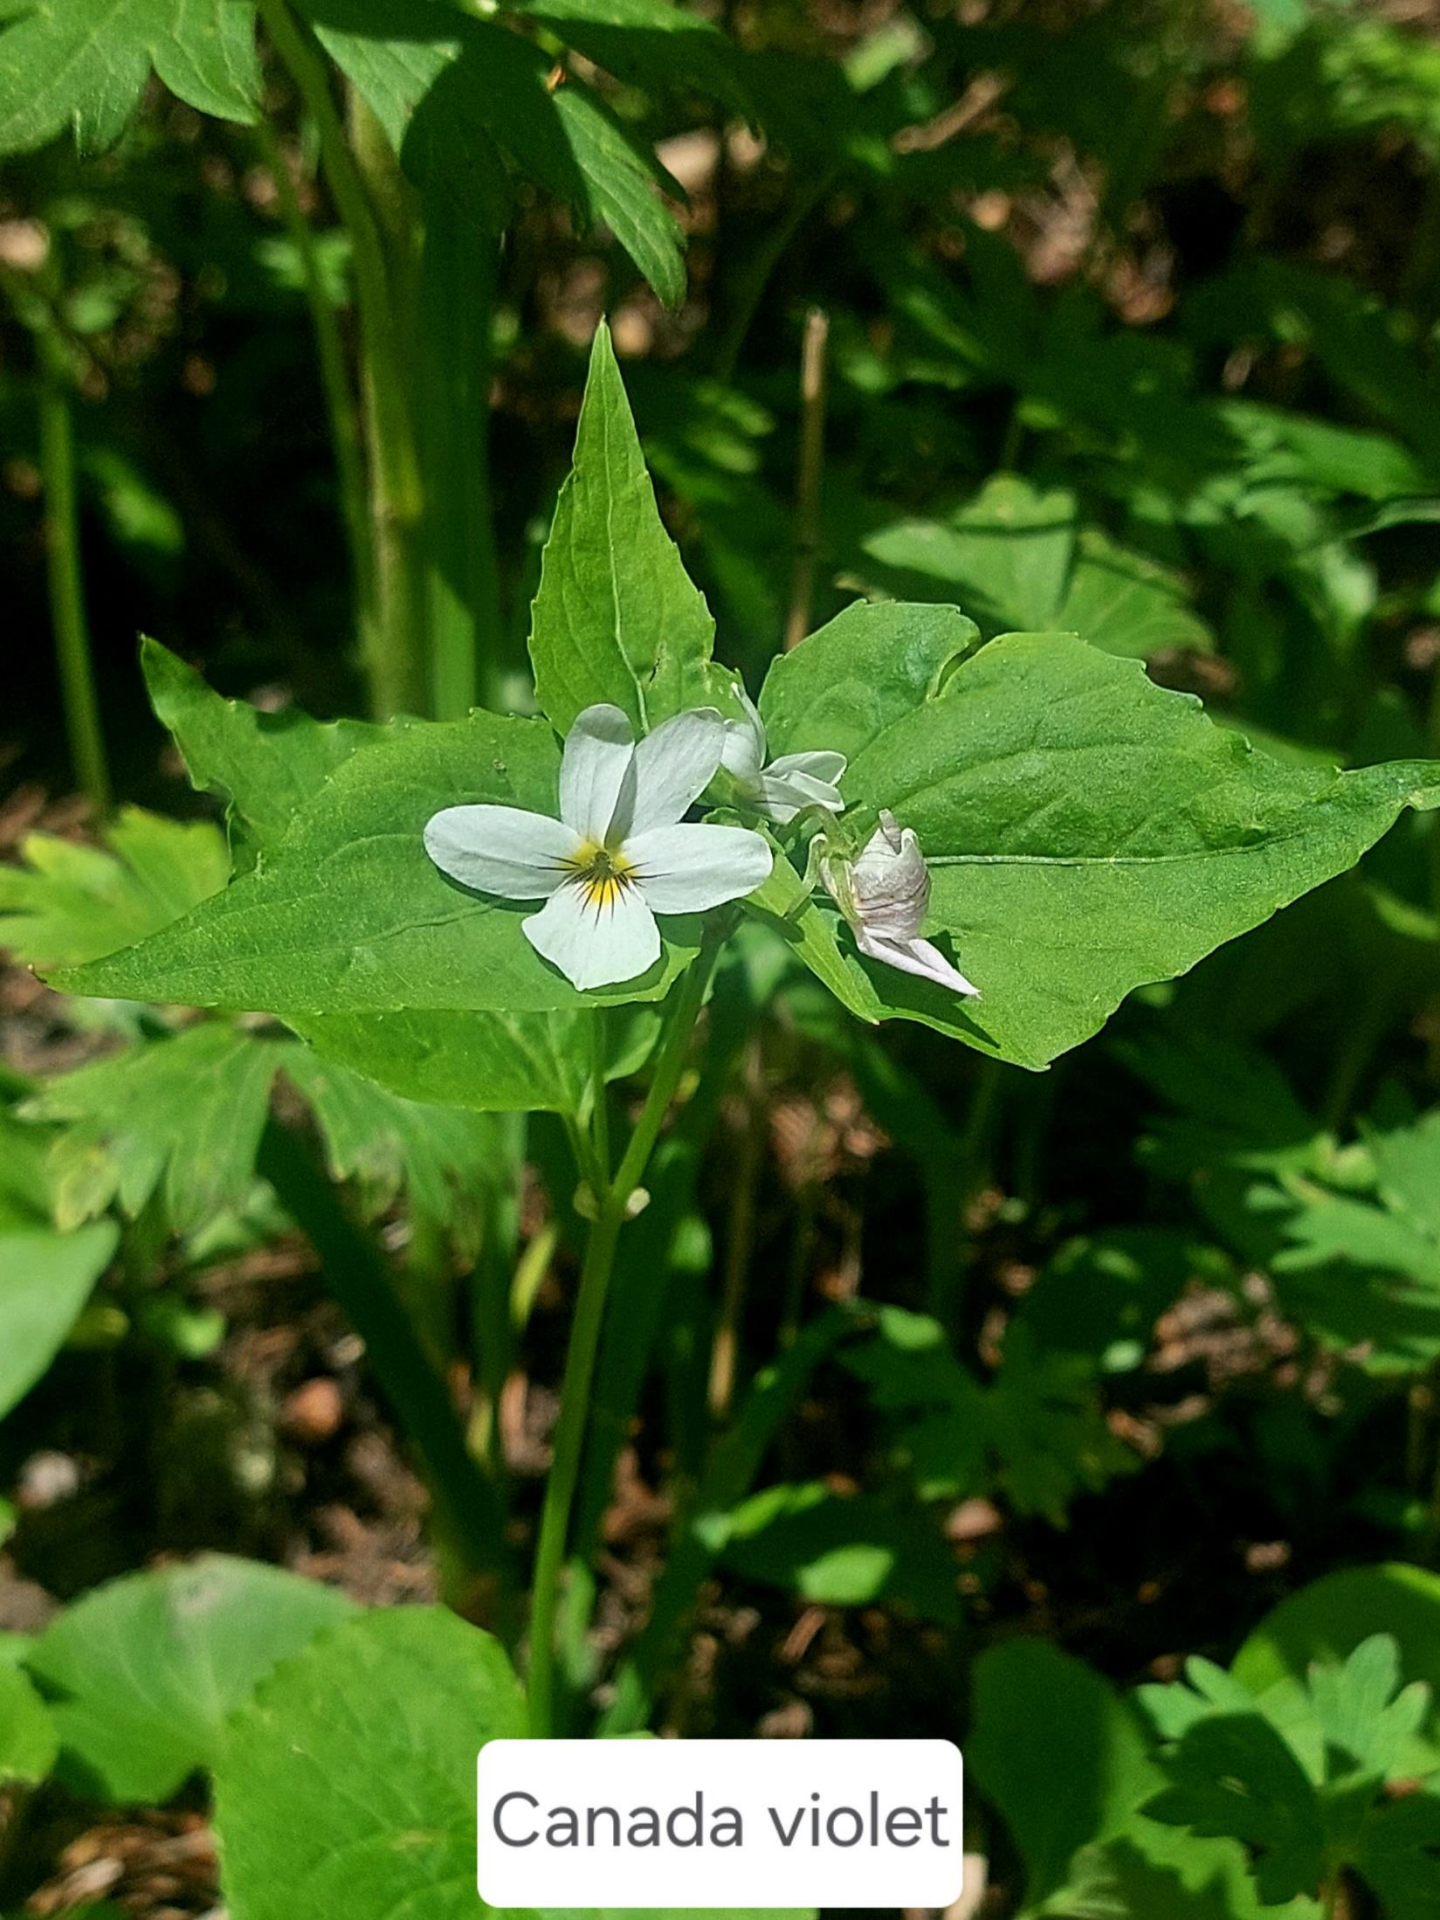

White checkerbloom

Spreading phlox

Perennial pepperweed

Canada violet

Coulter's fleabane

White marsh marigold

Common Bistort

Alpine bistort

Redroot buckwheat

Bracteate lousewort

Mountain death camas

Prince's Plume

Common evening-primrose

Sticky goldenrod

sweet yellow clover

Manyflowered
stoneseed

Arrowleaf balsamroot

Shrubby Cinquefoil

Graceful cinquefoil

sulfur cinquefoil
(inv.)

Yellow salsify (inv.)

Slender goldenbanner

Mullein

Common toadflax

low rattlebox

sticky purple geranium

showy fleabane

alfalfa

Richardson's geranium

Big-leaved lupine

Silvery lupine

silky lupine

Rosebay Willowherb
(aka Fireweed)

wild bergamot

Woods rose

Rocky Mountain
columbine

Western sweetvetch

Rocky Mountain clover

A photograph of a Tapertip onion plant. The plant has a single green stem with several long, narrow, green leaves. At the top of the stem is a cluster of small, purple, bell-shaped flowers with long, thin, pointed petals. The background is a forest floor covered in brown pine needles and some green foliage. A white label with black text is positioned at the bottom of the image.

Tapertip onion

Nodding onion

Elephant's-head

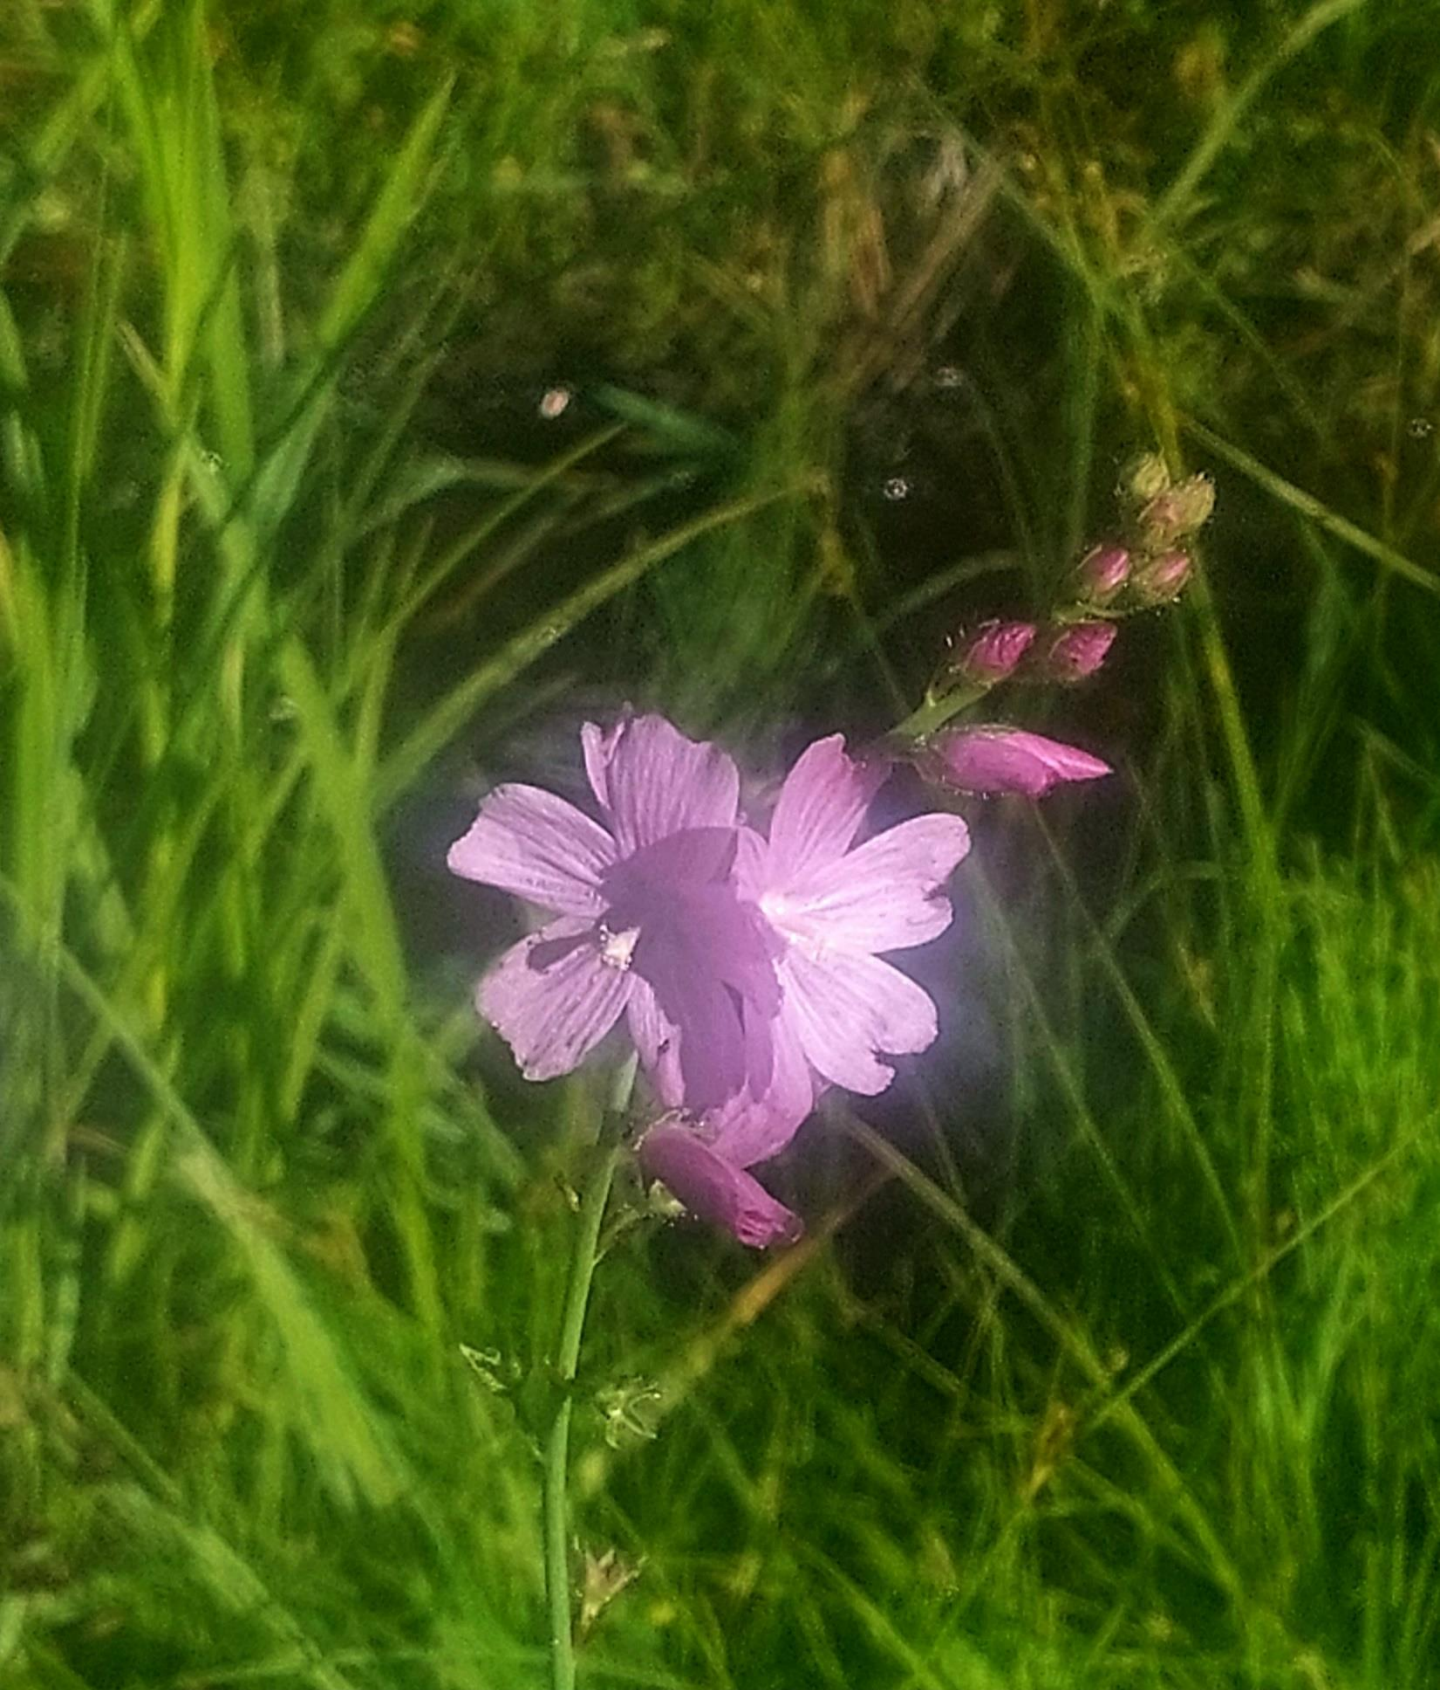

Parry's primrose

Spreading dogbane

subalpine paintbrush

Rocky Mountain checker-mallow

Everlasting-pea

Sticky polemonium

Western polemonium

Harebell

Common Self-Heal

Soapwort

White checkerbloom

Rocky Mountain Fringed-Gentian

Showy Jacob's-ladder

chicory

Blue flax

American Alpine speedwell

Two-Lobe Larkspur

Subalpine larkspur

Rocky Mountain
Penstemon

Mountain bluebells

Western Monkshood

Blue alpine phacelia

Ledge stonecrop

Scarlet gilia

Bridges's penstemon

Twinberry honeysuckle

Redpod stonecrop

Ledge stonecrop

Mountain agoseris

Western Indian paintbrush

Giant red Indian
paintbrush

Whipple's penstemon

Stinking Sedge

Hound's-tongue

Curly dock

Woodland pinedrops

